IRIS

R. MARSHALL
2253 North La Salle Gardens
DETROIT, MICHIGAN

HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

At least, that's the rumor. Whether that's the gospel truth or not, those of us who have spent the winter crying over our Peruvian bonds and puzzling over gold reserves, controlled production and mayhap the quaint policies of bank conservators, now find in the garden that Mother Nature still functions in her dazzling and relentless manner.

Except for a root of Theseus that was lifted by the frost, I find no frozen assets in the back yard. The Arabis again fashioned its mound of white, the tulips displayed their old optimism, the peonies show promise of declaring their accustomed 100% dividend of beauty.

So if you would heal the wounds of a distressing winter, get into the garden. It may be rough on the manicure but it will do your soul good to dig in the dirt. If you find a spot where iris would add to the picture, here are a few to select from. If you have money, no other investment will pay you better. If, without money, you still want iris, I'll be reasonable. I'll trade for shrubs, paperhanging, gasoline, rock plants, dental service, ninety day notes or what have you!

TALL BEARDED IRIS

Plants are sent postage prepaid. Remember that when comparing prices. Shipments made any time you wish after July 1

In the list below, following each variety name is the American Iris Society rating, based on 100. The first rating is of the specimen bloom, the second is for garden effect.

COLLECTIONS

Many customers, especially those unfamiliar with new varieties, like to have collections made up for them. You can get seven good varieties in a wide range of color for a Dollar or you can spend Ten Dollars for seven better, newer kinds. If you will tell me of your color preferences and say about how many plants you want, I shall be glad to make your money go as far as possible and guarantee that you'll be pleased. In handling such commissions I generally cast discretion to the winds and let my naturally generous nature get the better of me.

AMERICAN IRIS SOCIETY

Every iris lover should join. Cost is only $3.00 a year and you get at least four valuable iris bulletins. Send your application to me and I'll present you with an iris plant.

MICHIGAN HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Michigan gardeners owe this organization their support. Dues $3.00 a year. You get the National Horticultural Magazine for a year and that's worth all of the $3.00. You get free admission to many lectures and flower shows. I'll propose your name if you'll send me the dues. The free iris root offer applies here too.

P E O N I E S

The varieties listed below comprise a private collection of the finest modern peonies, which are to be sold this fall. The stock is strong and healthy. Each one of the plants will have 3 to 5 eyes. Shipment in October. Only a limited number of each variety available. ORDER NOW. Figures indicate rating on basis of 100.
